Olive Wood Gifts

Next weekend at all our Masses we will have for sale hand carved olive wood religious articles made in Bethlehem in the Holy Land. We are well aware of the perilous situation of the Christian community who live in the land of Jesus' birth, death, and resurrection. These beautiful objects make wonderful gifts for family and friends - and maybe even a gift to yourself.

The Cardinal's Annual Appeal 2015

We are making sure and steady progress toward reaching our parish goal of $134,000 for the Cardinal's Appeal. Our latest update shows that 186 families and individuals have contributed $103,580 which represents 78% of our goal. Of this amount, $73,945 has already been paid. The 186 gifts we have received represents a 10% participation rate for the parish.

Although we are doing well at this point, we still have some work ahead of us to reach our goal, which we consistently have done over the years. We are slightly behind where we were at this point in the Appeal last year.

The key to success this year will be to increase the number of people in the parish who contribute to the Appeal. We are doing so well thus far because a number of parishioners have been extraordinarily generous. Our largest gift has been $7,000 along with two $5,000 gifts and a number of gifts at the $2,000 and $1,000 level. Not everyone has the means to be this generous, but all of us are able to give something. Every contribution counts and many small gifts add up.

We have approximately $31,000 to go in order to reach our goal. We will get there if the more than 1,900 parishioners who received letters from Cardinal Dolan and have not yet contributed give something. Contribution envelopes are available in the church narthex. You can place your gift to the Appeal in the basket next Sunday.

Thank you very much to those who have brought us to 78% of our goal. And thank you also to those who will be making their gift over the coming weeks.

The Church and the Environment

April 22, 2015 is the 45th anniversary of Earth Day, a day set aside for action and reflection on stewardship of our planet. The Catholic Church brings a distinct perspective to the discussion of environmental questions, by lifting up the moral dimensions of these issues and the needs of the most vulnerable among us. This unique contribution is rooted in Catholic teaching calling us to care for creation and for “the least of these.” (Mt 25:40) Of particular concern to the Church is how environmental problems and our response to those challenges will affect the poor and vulnerable people at home and around the world.

In response to Pope John Paul II’s groundbreaking 1990 World Day of Peace Message entitled Peace With God the Creator, Peace With All of Creation, the full body of U.S. Catholic bishops adopted in 1991 their first statement on the environment, Renewing the Earth: An Invitation to Reflection and Action on Environment in Light of Catholic Social Teaching. In this foundational statement the bishops draw attention to the ethical dimensions of the ecological crisis, exploring the link between ecology and poverty and the implications of environmental degradation for human life and dignity.

Building on the commitment made by the U.S. bishops in their 1991 statement, the Environmental Justice Program of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) was created in 1993 to educate and motivate Catholics to a deeper reverence and respect for God’s creation, and to encourage Catholics to address environmental problems, particularly as they affect poor and vulnerable people.

Pope Benedict XVI made a number of significant statements about environmental issues during his pontificate, earning him the title “The Green Pope.” This issue is very much on the agenda of Pope Francis, who is being called “The Greener Pope.” In his homily at his Mass of installation as pope on March 19, 2013, he said: “I would like to ask all those who have positions of responsibility in economic, political, and social life, and all men and women of goodwill: let us be protectors of creation, protectors of God’s plan inscribed in nature, protectors of one another and the environment.”

Pope Francis is now in the process of completing an encyclical letter on the environment. It is expected to be issued within the next few months and is anticipated to be a groundbreaking statement on this most crucial topic from the leader of the Roman Catholic Church. We eagerly await its release.
